Sandplay workshop

Sandplay as part of an Integrative Approach to Psychotherapy

Led by: Diane Salters MSc, TSTA

Saturday 21 April 2018 (9.30 to 4.30)

In this workshop Diane will share how she uses Sandplay as an aspect of her integrative approach to psychotherapy and how she understands it in TA terms. She will also explore how it can be used together with Family Constellation work.

The workshop offers some theoretical base but is primarily experiential. Participants will have the opportunity to share in pairs, being both client and therapist.

About the leader

Diane Salters MSc, TSTA has more than 30 years experience as a therapist working with a wide variety of people. She originally trained at Metanoia . She currently lives and works in South Africa and also offers therapy and training internationally on line.
